

November Artist 2021

Artist Information

Glass Case

Title of Exhibit: Beautiful Birds

Adelaide ("Addie") Rosenthal

I started this project when I was a third grader because I was concerned about the state of our environment. Beautiful Birds was scheduled to be shown at the Malden Public Library in the spring of 2020, but then Covid happened. Now I'm a fifth grader at Forestdale Elementary, but I still love birds and art. Artworks are on paper using watercolor paint, crayons, marker and some other materials and are mounted on cardboard. I made my own presentation boards to upcycle instead of buying something new.

I hope my pictures of birds will help people remember their beauty and importance to the ecosystem. We can help the birds better survive by learning more about them and appreciating their amazingness.

Artwork Titles for publicity:

Trees: Your Shade, My Home

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Bird of Hope

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Selling Artwork:

If someone makes a donation in any amount to the Audubon Society in 2022, I will give them one of the artworks at the end of the exhibit.

Blue Bird Tree

Colored pencil and watercolor

Star Birds

Mixed media

Bird Silhouette

Marker and crayon

Garden Home

Mixed media

Swans Royal Entrance

Watercolor and pencil

Trees: Your Shade, My Home

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Bird of Hope

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Birds and Bird Houses

Mixed media

Feathers Aren't Fashion

Mixed media

Bird House

Ready-made wooden bird house painted with acrylics (on loan from our yard for exhibit)

I started this project when I was a 5th grade student. I was interested about the birds of our neighborhood. Beautiful birds were supposed to be shown at the Madison Public Library in the spring of 2011, but then Covid happened. Now I'm a 18th grader at Fayetteville Community, but I still love birds and art. Artworks are on paper using watercolor, pencil, crayon, marker and some other materials and are mounted on cardboard. I made my own presentation boards to replace posters of buying something else.

I hope my projects will help people remember their birds and love for the environment. It can help the birds better survive by learning more about them and experiencing their world.

Artwork later for publicity:

Thank Your Shade, My Home

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

End of Hope

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Selling Artwork:

If someone makes a purchase of any amount to the Auction Society in 2022, I will give them one of the artworks at the same price as the artist.

Blue Bird Tree

Colored pencil and watercolor

Star Birds

Watercolor

Bird Silhouettes

Marker and crayon

Garden House

Mixed media

Swain's Royal Entrance

Watercolor and pencil

Thank Your Shade, My Home

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

End of Hope

Wax crayon, watercolor and pencil on paper

Birds and Bird Houses

Mixed media